This is great thank you! I know we are pursuing a contract without a sole source attachment.

Please keep me apprised of the progress.

Attached is some information provided by Vintra reference our recent trial. There were some things we were not able to Try, such as facial recognition in our Dataworks database, but it does some to promise to cost savings of employee time With better results than current methods.

Hey Erin,

Here is some documentation that I owe you. I wanted to find out if it would help you to get 3 different Vintra quotes from channel partners, or if you needed 3 different quotes from competitors? With buying from a channel partner, you would have the same pricing.

Call me next week if you get a minute and we can discuss.

Have a great weekend!
